John H. Boner Community Center Announces Board Members

Indianapolis, Ind. – Four people have been added to the John H. Boner Community Center Board of Directors.

The John H. Boner Center's Executive Director, James Taylor, announced the addition of Tracy Heaton de Martinez, Kristine Kuhn, Tom Sicks and Sara VanSlambrook. They will serve a three-year term, beginning July 21, 2005.

"I am excited about the level of energy and commitment these new board members demonstrate," Taylor said. "Their actions will ultimately benefit the residents of the near Eastside."

Bios:

Tracy Heaton de Martinez is a resident of the near Eastside, residing in Little Flower neighborhood. She also is involved with other Eastside efforts such as the Near East Side Community Organization (NESCO), and she serves on the board of directors for the Indianapolis League of Women Voters and Girl Scouts of Hoosier Capital. Heaton de Martinez, a graduate of Indiana University, works for Hook's Discovery & Learning Center.

Kristine Kuhn works for Citizen's Gas as director of internal audit. She received her bachelor's degree in accounting with honors from Indiana University.

Tom Sicks works at Grace Foods, where he is responsible for front-end operations and the overall supervision of all Grace Food Stores. In the past, Sicks has hired participants from the Boner Center's Career Corner programs. Sicks is a graduate of Purdue University.

Sara VanSlambrook is a resident of the near Eastside, residing in Little Flower neighborhood. She is a program officer for Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC). VanSlambrook received her bachelor's degree from Saint Mary's College, and has a master of social work and master of business administration from Case Western Reserve University.

The John H. Boner Community Center responds creatively to the needs of the people on the near Eastside of Indianapolis.
